

PETER PLINK

Side Glances By Galbraith

Funny Business By Hershberger

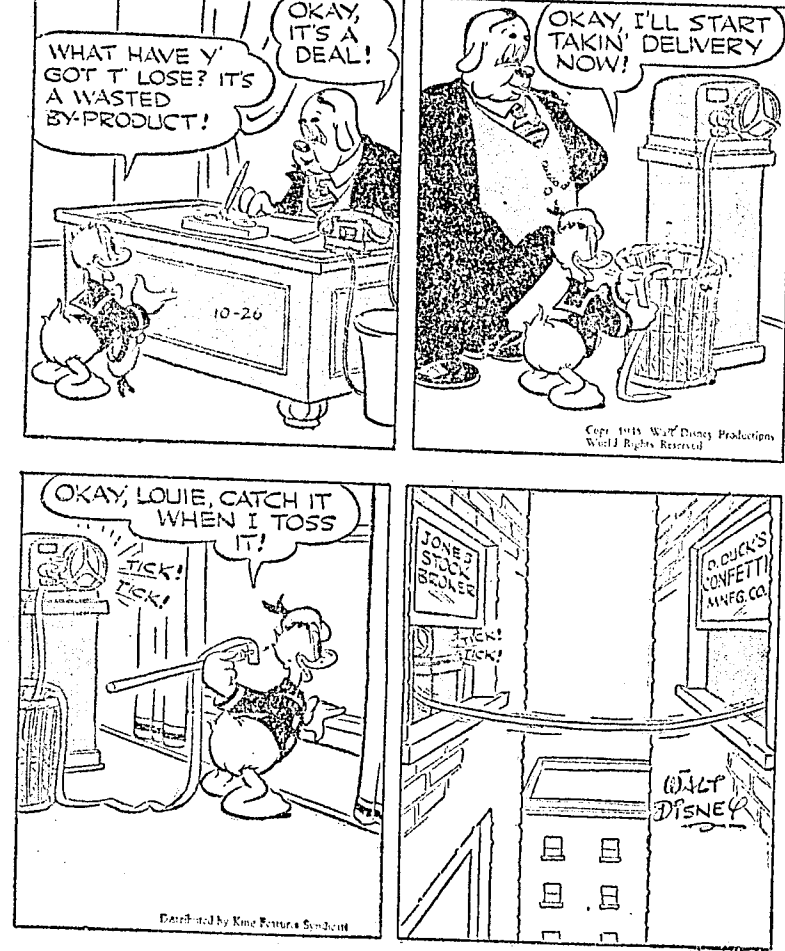

Out Our Way By J. R. Williams

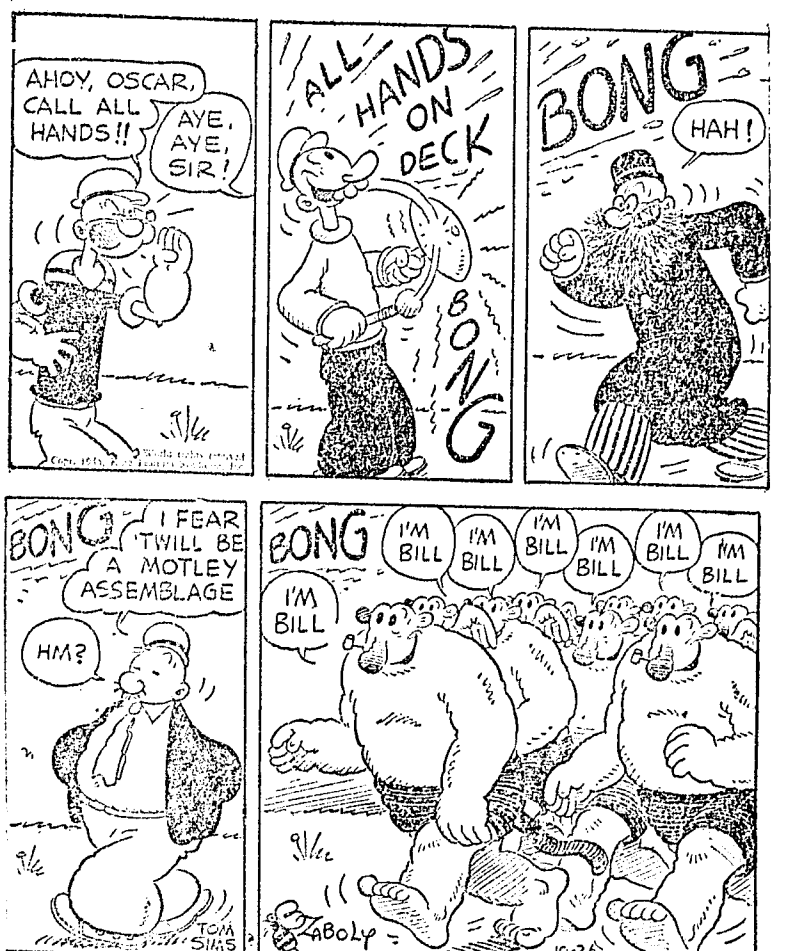

MODEST MAIDENS

By Walt Disney

By Hershberger

By J. R. Williams

CLASSIFIED

Ads Must Be in Office Day Before Publication
 • All Want Ads Cash in Advance
 One time - 2c per word, minimum 30c
 Three times - 1c per word, minimum 30c
 Rates are for Continuous Insertions Only
 "THE MORE YOU TELL, THE QUICKER YOU SELL"

Real Estate for Sale

80 ACRE FARM, THREE AND half miles from city limits on the old highway. Good house, barn, and fence. Can get direct well. Fine stock water and deep well. For quick sale, price $25,000.00. Call Mr. J. R. Williams, 214 So. Main St., Hope, Ark.

Help Wanted

A MAN OF AGGRESSIVE ABILITY who would like to know his job is permanent, as the war is over, can you? Are you a man? Mr. J. R. Williams, 214 So. Main St., Hope, Ark.

For Sale

SEEK US BEFORE YOU BUY real estate or furniture. The best place in town to buy furniture. Ideal Furniture Store, 1414 So. Main St., Hope, Ark.

Wanted to Rent

BLACK CHANCE PURSE, CON- taining money and receipt from Western Union, Reward for return to Mrs. Thelma Mitchell, 2434 W. Ark. Route 1.

Hope Meets Camden There Tonight

By The Associated Press
 It may be a difficult task to grasp the magnitude of the Arkansas Tech football team's victory over the Little Rock team in the annual "Battle of the Border" game tonight. The Tech team, coached by the legendary "Pop" Warner, defeated the Little Rock team, coached by the legendary "Red" Sanders, by a score of 21-0.

Notice

MY PHONE NUMBER HAS BEEN changed from 214-1234 to 214-5678. Call Mr. J. R. Williams, 214 So. Main St., Hope, Ark.

Wanted

WILL RENT OR BUY WHEEL- chair. Call Mr. J. R. Williams, 214 So. Main St., Hope, Ark.

THEO LONG

For Plumbing
 Phone 674-J
 Hope, Arkansas

Motor Repairs—Light Fixtures

Hope Appliance Co.
 214 East 3rd St.
 PHONE 615
 Appliance Repairs—Appliances

Hate Cleaned and Rebu-

the factory way.
 HALL'S HAT SHOP
 East 2nd St. Phone 76
 Alterations
 Pressed Willie You Wait

See Us For BABY CHICKS

You'll like our quality chicks, hatched and raised on selected feed. Low price.

FEEDERS SUPPLY CO.

214 So. Main St., Hope, Ark.

Wanted!

For ELECTRIC SERVICE
 Phone 413
 We specialize in:
 • Motor Rewinding
 • Repair of all makes of Appliances
 • General Wiring
 BARWICK'S Electric Service
 114 E. Third St., Hope, Ark.

Wanted!

TELEPHONE POLES
 All Dimensions — 16 to 70 Feet
 Cash Every Week
 RUFUS MARTIN
 PATMOS, ARK.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler
 Copyright, 1945
 By King Features Syndicate.

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—There's nothing like an upset to thrill the football spectator and some 72,000 fans who packed the stadium for the game between the Philadelphia Eagles and the New York Giants at the University City stadium last night.

The Giants, who were favored to win, were defeated by the Eagles, who were underdogs. The game was a close one, with the Eagles leading 14-13 at the end of the third quarter.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

Picks Navy to Defeat Pennsylvania

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
 New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—There's nothing like an upset to thrill the football spectator and some 72,000 fans who packed the stadium for the game between the Philadelphia Eagles and the New York Giants at the University City stadium last night.

The Giants, who were favored to win, were defeated by the Eagles, who were underdogs. The game was a close one, with the Eagles leading 14-13 at the end of the third quarter.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
 New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Navy's victory over Pennsylvania in the football game last night was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

Army, Duke to Play at Polo Grounds, N. Y.

By TED MEIER
 New York, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The Army and Navy football teams will play at the Polo Grounds in New York City tonight. The game is expected to be a close one, with both teams playing well.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

The game was a fair one, with both teams playing well. The Eagles' defense was particularly strong, holding the Giants to a field goal in the first half.

IN THE HOUR OF TRIUMPH

Behind us lie 3½ years of deadly struggle in which, with God's help, we have prevailed.

So, today, we celebrate a victory.

After the celebration, what lies ahead?

For most of us, the outlook is a bright one. If we will simply use the brains, the will, the energy, the enterprise... the materials and resources... with which we won our war, we can't fail to win the peace and to make this the richest, happiest land the world has known.

For most of us, the years ahead are bright with promise. But for others of us—and, ironically enough, their part in bringing victory was a major one—the years to come must bear a different look.

In America today are hundreds of thousands of injured men. Men with neatly pinned-up sleeves and trousers. Blinded men. Men with clever iron hooks instead of hands. Worst of all, men with hurt and darkened minds.

These men need our help. Helping them will cost a great deal of money. We can help them best by buying Victory Bonds.

Far away from America today are millions of Americans. As we would be, they're on fire to get back—to their wives, to the children some of them have never seen, to their jobs.

These men need our help. Helping them will cost a great deal of money. And we can help them best by buying Victory Bonds.

This is our day of triumph. But it's theirs too—the injured men, the men who are still far away.

Let's not forget them, in our just rejoicing. And the one way we can help most to care for our wounded... to bring our veterans home... to give them a fresh start in the country they fought for... to care for the families of those who died before the victory was won... is simply this:

Buy all the Bonds you can. Keep all the Bonds you buy.

Victory Loan Opens Monday, October 29

First National Bank

Citizens National Bank

Our Daily Bread

Sliced Thin by The Editor

Alex. H. Washburn
Showdown
United States
Tells the World.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war.

It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years. It would be better to have a show-down now.

What Truman said today was simply this:

"The United States will not recognize any government set up by the force of a foreign power. You can apply this any way you choose, and still be well within the meaning of the American declaration."

You could say: We won't recognize any obviously Russian-sponsored governments in the Balkans, or Hungary, or Austria, or you could say: We won't recognize British or Dutch regimes set up by force of arms in the East Indies—and again you would be telling the truth.

Perhaps this, old as it is, remains the surest way to keep the peace. To insist that government be elected by the people is to be compelled to depend on the consent of the governed. That means free elections—free from the threat of a foreign power.

And to this strong and dangerous policy, wherever it may lead us, we bow by the grace of God.

By JAMES THRASHER
Postwar Policy Needed
The cancellation of the settlement of war contracts seems to have been a swift and in good order. But a good many war-related industries still are plagued by one important and thus far unanswered question: To what point shall operations be cut back for a permanent peacetime program?

Several industries, particularly those on the national defense side, are already having a hard time adjusting to a peacetime schedule. The military aircraft that will let them keep millions of their war-time research, development and production ready for quick expansion in time of emergency.

Now the country's leaders are beginning to ask the government: When will they be able to get back to the normal? They have tremendous wartime facilities which can be scrapped, repaired, or maintained at a prohibitive cost. They do not yet know where to draw the line between the present over-production and the peacetime production.

Reverend Dr. E. V. Rieu, assistant chief of Navy's Bureau of Ships, has said that the privately operated shipyards are in a state of emergency.

Continued on Page Two

By JAMES THRASHER
Postwar Policy Needed
The cancellation of the settlement of war contracts seems to have been a swift and in good order. But a good many war-related industries still are plagued by one important and thus far unanswered question: To what point shall operations be cut back for a permanent peacetime program?

Several industries, particularly those on the national defense side, are already having a hard time adjusting to a peacetime schedule. The military aircraft that will let them keep millions of their war-time research, development and production ready for quick expansion in time of emergency.

Now the country's leaders are beginning to ask the government: When will they be able to get back to the normal? They have tremendous wartime facilities which can be scrapped, repaired, or maintained at a prohibitive cost. They do not yet know where to draw the line between the present over-production and the peacetime production.

Reverend Dr. E. V. Rieu, assistant chief of Navy's Bureau of Ships, has said that the privately operated shipyards are in a state of emergency.

Continued on Page Two

By JAMES THRASHER
Postwar Policy Needed
The cancellation of the settlement of war contracts seems to have been a swift and in good order. But a good many war-related industries still are plagued by one important and thus far unanswered question: To what point shall operations be cut back for a permanent peacetime program?

Several industries, particularly those on the national defense side, are already having a hard time adjusting to a peacetime schedule. The military aircraft that will let them keep millions of their war-time research, development and production ready for quick expansion in time of emergency.

Now the country's leaders are beginning to ask the government: When will they be able to get back to the normal? They have tremendous wartime facilities which can be scrapped, repaired, or maintained at a prohibitive cost. They do not yet know where to draw the line between the present over-production and the peacetime production.

Reverend Dr. E. V. Rieu, assistant chief of Navy's Bureau of Ships, has said that the privately operated shipyards are in a state of emergency.

Continued on Page Two

By JAMES THRASHER
Postwar Policy Needed
The cancellation of the settlement of war contracts seems to have been a swift and in good order. But a good many war-related industries still are plagued by one important and thus far unanswered question: To what point shall operations be cut back for a permanent peacetime program?

Several industries, particularly those on the national defense side, are already having a hard time adjusting to a peacetime schedule. The military aircraft that will let them keep millions of their war-time research, development and production ready for quick expansion in time of emergency.

Now the country's leaders are beginning to ask the government: When will they be able to get back to the normal? They have tremendous wartime facilities which can be scrapped, repaired, or maintained at a prohibitive cost. They do not yet know where to draw the line between the present over-production and the peacetime production.

Reverend Dr. E. V. Rieu, assistant chief of Navy's Bureau of Ships, has said that the privately operated shipyards are in a state of emergency.

Continued on Page Two

By JAMES THRASHER
Postwar Policy Needed
The cancellation of the settlement of war contracts seems to have been a swift and in good order. But a good many war-related industries still are plagued by one important and thus far unanswered question: To what point shall operations be cut back for a permanent peacetime program?

Several industries, particularly those on the national defense side, are already having a hard time adjusting to a peacetime schedule. The military aircraft that will let them keep millions of their war-time research, development and production ready for quick expansion in time of emergency.

Now the country's leaders are beginning to ask the government: When will they be able to get back to the normal? They have tremendous wartime facilities which can be scrapped, repaired, or maintained at a prohibitive cost. They do not yet know where to draw the line between the present over-production and the peacetime production.

Reverend Dr. E. V. Rieu, assistant chief of Navy's Bureau of Ships, has said that the privately operated shipyards are in a state of emergency.

Continued on Page Two

By JAMES THRASHER
Postwar Policy Needed
The cancellation of the settlement of war contracts seems to have been a swift and in good order. But a good many war-related industries still are plagued by one important and thus far unanswered question: To what point shall operations be cut back for a permanent peacetime program?

Several industries, particularly those on the national defense side, are already having a hard time adjusting to a peacetime schedule. The military aircraft that will let them keep millions of their war-time research, development and production ready for quick expansion in time of emergency.

Now the country's leaders are beginning to ask the government: When will they be able to get back to the normal? They have tremendous wartime facilities which can be scrapped, repaired, or maintained at a prohibitive cost. They do not yet know where to draw the line between the present over-production and the peacetime production.

Reverend Dr. E. V. Rieu, assistant chief of Navy's Bureau of Ships, has said that the privately operated shipyards are in a state of emergency.

Continued on Page Two

By JAMES THRASHER
Postwar Policy Needed
The cancellation of the settlement of war contracts seems to have been a swift and in good order. But a good many war-related industries still are plagued by one important and thus far unanswered question: To what point shall operations be cut back for a permanent peacetime program?

Several industries, particularly those on the national defense side, are already having a hard time adjusting to a peacetime schedule. The military aircraft that will let them keep millions of their war-time research, development and production ready for quick expansion in time of emergency.

Now the country's leaders are beginning to ask the government: When will they be able to get back to the normal? They have tremendous wartime facilities which can be scrapped, repaired, or maintained at a prohibitive cost. They do not yet know where to draw the line between the present over-production and the peacetime production.

Reverend Dr. E. V. Rieu, assistant chief of Navy's Bureau of Ships, has said that the privately operated shipyards are in a state of emergency.

Continued on Page Two

'This Is My Story'

New York, Oct. 27 (UP)—Civilians for more attention to the problems of the Japanese people, Gen. Wainwright and Gen. Homma, who were captured in the Philippines, are appearing in a new book, "This Is My Story," which tells the story of their capture and the conditions of their captivity.

Gen. Wainwright, who was captured in the Philippines, and Gen. Homma, who was captured in the Philippines, are appearing in a new book, "This Is My Story," which tells the story of their capture and the conditions of their captivity.

Gen. Wainwright, who was captured in the Philippines, and Gen. Homma, who was captured in the Philippines, are appearing in a new book, "This Is My Story," which tells the story of their capture and the conditions of their captivity.

Gen. Wainwright, who was captured in the Philippines, and Gen. Homma, who was captured in the Philippines, are appearing in a new book, "This Is My Story," which tells the story of their capture and the conditions of their captivity.

Gen. Wainwright, who was captured in the Philippines, and Gen. Homma, who was captured in the Philippines, are appearing in a new book, "This Is My Story," which tells the story of their capture and the conditions of their captivity.

Gen. Wainwright, who was captured in the Philippines, and Gen. Homma, who was captured in the Philippines, are appearing in a new book, "This Is My Story," which tells the story of their capture and the conditions of their captivity.

Gen. Wainwright, who was captured in the Philippines, and Gen. Homma, who was captured in the Philippines, are appearing in a new book, "This Is My Story," which tells the story of their capture and the conditions of their captivity.

U. S. Won't Recognize 'Regime of Force' in Liberated Areas

New York, Oct. 27 (UP)—President Truman in a forceful, 12-point declaration of American foreign policy notified the world today that the United States would not recognize any government set up by the force of a foreign power.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war. It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war. It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war. It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war. It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war. It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war. It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war. It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years.

Hatchet Killer at 16 Poses Youth Issue

New York, Oct. 27 (UP)—Civilians for more attention to the problems of the Japanese people, Gen. Wainwright and Gen. Homma, who were captured in the Philippines, are appearing in a new book, "This Is My Story," which tells the story of their capture and the conditions of their captivity.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war. It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war. It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war. It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war. It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war. It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war. It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years.

President Truman's statement of foreign policy today is of the most momentous for America since the war. It is a courageous and realistic statement, born of the courage and resolution of this country's four years of sacrifice in world war—and the obvious belief that if we are going to continue to live in peace, we must have a world that will lead to another war in five or ten years.

Congress in Snarl Over Tax Cut Bill

Washington, Oct. 27 (UP)—Conflicts over tax cuts for business and for individuals today appeared to be breaking the Senate-House deadlock over removal of the 1946 tax relief bill.

Conflicts over tax cuts for business and for individuals today appeared to be breaking the Senate-House deadlock over removal of the 1946 tax relief bill.

Conflicts over tax cuts for business and for individuals today appeared to be breaking the Senate-House deadlock over removal of the 1946 tax relief bill.

Conflicts over tax cuts for business and for individuals today appeared to be breaking the Senate-House deadlock over removal of the 1946 tax relief bill.

Conflicts over tax cuts for business and for individuals today appeared to be breaking the Senate-House deadlock over removal of the 1946 tax relief bill.

Conflicts over tax cuts for business and for individuals today appeared to be breaking the Senate-House deadlock over removal of the 1946 tax relief bill.

Conflicts over tax cuts for business and for individuals today appeared to be breaking the Senate-House deadlock over removal of the 1946 tax relief bill.

Conflicts over tax cuts for business and for individuals today appeared to be breaking the Senate-House deadlock over removal of the 1946 tax relief bill.

Special Guard Wanted for Atom Experts

Washington, Oct. 26 (UP)—Two senators called today for special armed guards to protect atomic scientists working on the bomb project.

Two senators called today for special armed guards to protect atomic scientists working on the bomb project.

Two senators called today for special armed guards to protect atomic scientists working on the bomb project.

Two senators called today for special armed guards to protect atomic scientists working on the bomb project.

Two senators called today for special armed guards to protect atomic scientists working on the bomb project.

Two senators called today for special armed guards to protect atomic scientists working on the bomb project.

Two senators called today for special armed guards to protect atomic scientists working on the bomb project.

Two senators called today for special armed guards to protect atomic scientists working on the bomb project.